THE REST MEN NEEDED

There is always reason to com-plain of the indifference and apathy of the eitkens in relation to the ptb-lic affairs of the city, and there is a general indisposition among them to gake part in the government of the city. This condition generally re-ults in the affairs of the anualcipalcity. That constitutes generally exists in the affairs of the mushicale must be more of the subscription of the constitute of the constitu boards. The City Council has no com-tool over their imaneal affairs. They do not have to collect their income. All they have to do is to present the bill to the Council or Board of Con-trol and ask that it be paid, and the eity has no other recount than to hand them the money, no matter how the con-sistence of the control of the con-trol of the council or search of the without any relation to cach other's expenditure or to that of the city. As husiness concern would do things dif-ferently. With a full view of the re-sources of the concern, it would al-locate the funds with a just apprecia-tion of the needs of each department. Something like this should obtain in the city's bosimies. We should have the city's bosimies we should have the city's bosimies of each department. He was the city's bosimies and the heads of departments, meet to strike a prop-er budget for the whole of the live whole of other spending boards, with the near of departments, meet to strike a project er budget for the whole of the city business, and then we might expect sensible distribution of the city business, and then we might expenses assessible distribution of the city's funds.

In a few days candidates will be asking for the suffrages of the electors. The citizens should be guided in their choice by picking the best and their choice by picking the best and their choice of the city of t city of Hamtiton. So far o as the city of Hamilton. So far only two candidates have appeared for the mayoralty. The fact that the Mayor has held office for several terms should not be a bar to his success at the polls the coming year if he has given satisfaction while in office. Controller Halford has served one term as alderman and he is serving a year as footroller. He seems to have a fair grasp of municipal ques-tions and does not spare himself in the discharge of his duties. If he could shake himself clear of this classousness he might be a more dan-s opponent of Mayor Booker.

When it was first mooted at London, Sir Adam half favored the projonal athough he knew that it was a proposition that would not bear investigation as a business deal. He knew that mether power nor light could be supplied to users in the western end of the Province as chopply as in the central parts, and that if a flat rate was to obtain, it would be at the expense of places like Hamilton, which would have to pay for the chap power in those distant districts.

It would be just as fair, when the electric radial roads were running for the Chap mension to charge the same lair for a trip force to Common or St. Thomas, when makes the matter of some unrefers and importance to he

The Big Stores Will Not Open Nights This Year

Our friends are co-operating with us in a wonderful way to make the short shopping day a real success. We make the following suggestions which we think would be mutually helpful:

- 1. Start shopping at 9.00 a.m.
- 2. Have your shopping list ready.
- 3. Shop with a system—starting on main floor or base-ment and finish one floor after another.
- While selecting gifts, remember that your first choice will be just as acceptable as your last, because the recipient sees only your present and will be pleased.
- 5. Have patience with clerks—there are necessarily many with little experience but all trying to do their best to please you.
- 6. Carry as many parcels as you can-lieve the delivery congestion.
- 7. Mail parcels and Christmas cards early to assure

There is much rejoicing in Burlington to-day over the an-nouncement that Tigers would not play intermediate hockey. Had the Bengals decided to desert the senior ranks they would have been grouped with Burlington and Milton and it would have taken all the joy out of life for Burlington fans.

the joy out of life for Burlington fans.

Mike O'Dowd, middleweight champion, has renewed his challenge to George Carpentier, the heavyweight champion of Europe. O'Dowd wants to battle the French fighter before any club that will put on the boat, and, moreover, he does not want the world with a fence around it for his end. O'Dowd is nearly as big as Carpentier and believes that because of the life he led during the war, Carpentier will not be able to give Dempasy anything like a fight. Paddy stullins, manager of O'Dowd, is likewise confident of the result of a meeting with the Frenchman.

Mullins. 'Dempey is not the man tog against the Frenchman. That wouldn't be a fight! it would be murder.'

O'Dowd claims Carpentier made a poor showing against Dick Smith, a fighter he knocked out in three rounds during the interallied tournament. O'Dowd sheat fight will be in Detroit before Christmas. His opponent has not been selected.

The question as to whether the golfers who rattle up 146 for the und do not get as much pleasure out of the game as a player who ishes in the low 70s is one that has often been debated pro and n. In speaking on the subject recently a prominent professional

THREE HUNDRED AND NINETY-FIFTH CHAPTER.

LOST IN THE AIR! AND A STRANGE POREST LANDING.

The self-starter worked! I made a beautiful take-off and headed my ship to the south. The spirit of adventure bubbled within me. My only care was keeping watch of my gas gauge. The base was not a fast one, nevertain real were obliterated. I found it was going to be very difficult to act as both piot and observer. Of course I was able to follow the railroad track, so I decided to go south to the point where the hold-up had occurred. I ought to be able to recognize that place. Then I could turn west in the direction of the bandit's camp.

"The bandit's care is two days, by pack train, north of the point of my capture, and two days west." Miss Miller had said in method to the said of the said of the south of the said of the work for any and the said of the said active, goods ago wheel on earth much sooner than I expected. I had settled confortably in a smother of branches! The wings of my ser were supported on top of a forest! Below me was the edge of a ravine and a silver thread of water.

I was in the forest primeral—where nobody had ever parked an airplane before, and I was probably lost for all time. I told myself. And the T slipped softly into the deep darkness of a swoon. (To be continued),
